3–4 May 2018

Alvear Palace Hotel, Buenos Aires, Argentina

There has been a rapid increase in jurisdictions in which competition law regimes not only exist but are actively enforced. This includes a number of Latin American countries which have seen a substantial evolution in their competition policies and increased levels of enforcement.

Global and regional cooperation among authorities has played a significant role in making enforcement more effective. The sharing of best practices, in particular within the context of the International Competition Network, has led to improvements in enforcement procedures and investigative techniques, including leniency programmes.

At the same time, greater awareness among governments and civil societies of the benefits of vigorously enforcing competition law has given the work of competition authorities significant public exposure.

All this makes it increasingly important to keep up-to-date with local as well as global developments in the legal framework, administrative practices and the evolution of case law.

This conference will analyse key legislative and administrative trends in global competition law, with a focus on recent developments in Latin America. It is aimed at enforcers, practitioners, counsel, academics and others with an interest in competition law and its enforcement.

Sessions include:

- Antitrust compliance
- Cartel enforcement
- Cooperation among agencies
- Due process issues
- Loyalty discounts and rebates
- Market definition in dynamic/changing sectors

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

IBA Antitrust Committee overview

The Antitrust Committee provides an international forum for thought leadership with respect to antitrust law developments and the profession through submissions to competition agencies, training programs/missions, developing the law through our conferences, publications, and interaction with antitrust enforcement authorities and the profession.

In addition, there is a strong commitment to bring together international practitioners to facilitate closer working relationships. The Committee is increasingly relied upon by government officials and members of the private sector for its expertise and practical input into antitrust developments, including through its Working Group submissions.
